MAKING NEW FORESTS

VALUABLE WORK DONE BY T. P. LUKENS IN REFORESTING THE SIERRA MADRES

Many people in Glendale have little idea of the valuable work of protection of this valley that has been going on on the high Sierras for some years past, and yet that work has been the very salvation of this valley with its crops and fruits. Mr. J. C. Sherer, city clerk, who has much knowledge of this work and as a rancher himself is naturally interested in this work of conservation, said to a representative of the Glendale Evening News Friday:

"The board of supervisors and city representatives were invited by the president of the Board of Trade to go to Pasadena some time ago to meet Mr. T. P. Lukens and accompany him to the top of Mount Wilson. Mr. Lukens, who has been engaged in the work of reforesting the Sierras on behalf of the government, although much of his work is a labor of love, was anxious that as many as might be considered interested in this work should have an opportunity to judge of what had been done. Unfortunately for the valleys below the Sierra Madres, much of the forest growth on the heights had been burned down by successive forest fires in times past. We stopped at several places along the trail to note the growth of the new trees. One such belt showed a mile in length by 100 feet in breadth, where the trees were growing nicely. They had been planted by Mr. Lukens ten years previously. When we saw them they were from eight to twelve feet in height. They consisted almost entirely of a peculiar species of mountain pine—pinus attenuata.

"Mr. Lukens is deserving of all credit for his success in this work. He has been a resident of Pasadena for a long time and was at one time president of one of the banks there. Ten or fifteen years ago he gave up his banking work and devoted himself to experimentation and theory in connection with reforestation. The result of his work is seen in the forest growth on Mount Wilson. It shows his wisdom.

"Mr. Waxwell of the reclamation service says that this is the most successful experiment of the kind in the world. Mr. Lukens traveled a great many miles in order to ascertain what trees were best for conservation purposes and at last found among the San Bernardino mountains the best variety of pine for this purpose—pinus attenuata. He carried out his ideas in opposition to the Pinchot school of foresters, who endeavored to make trees grow on the mountains with conservation as a mere secondary consideration, the primary consideration being timber. Mr. Lukens on the other hand believes that conservation rather than a timber supply should be aimed at.

"This variety of pine, utilized by Mr. Lukens, is of little timber value and has been overlooked by the forestry department. One peculiarity of this tree (pinus attenuata) is that the cone, or fruit, as Mr. Lukens calls it, is only from three to four inches in length and cannot be broken off from the tree by any ordinary means. After experiment Mr. Lukens discovered that nature had so made the tree that the cones never fall naturally. They seem to have been provided to perpetuate their species after the ravages of fire, which is the only thing that can make them open and part with their seed.

"Mr. Lukens' system of planting differs from that in vogue among the foresters of the department as applied in the mountains of California. They have been in the habit of planting seed in the places where they wanted the trees to grow and leaving it to take its chance, with the consequence that the young trees have generally been destroyed by animals before they attained many inches in height.

"Lukens planted his seeds in nurseries and after the young trees had grown up, transplanted them to the mountains with the result that they have needed no further care and have all grown vigorously. He says that there is not a foot of mountain soil where he cannot make a tree grow.

"The trees thus grown produce masses of foliage which falls and covers the ground with a carpet that retains the rains and prevents them from rushing down and devastating the valleys below. While we were on the top of Mt. Wilson we saw numerous canyons opening into the valleys. Mr. Lukens pointed out one—Bear canyon—covered with a thick growth of trees. He made the statement that the storm waters that enter this canyon never flow out of it. Other canyons with no trees or few trees send down torrents of water.

"In speaking of conservation, Mr. Pridham, president of the board of

STANDS BY RECORDER

SUPERIOR COURT UPHOLDS OUR JUDGE'S CONSECUTIVE SENTENCE DECISION

Quite an interesting legal point was decided by Judge Cabinnis in the superior court, Los Angeles, Friday morning in the matter of four consecutive sentences imposed some time ago by Judge Whomes in the recorder's court of Glendale.

Three men, two Mexicans and one Spaniard, were tried by Judge Whomes on April 1 on misdemeanor charges, having been guilty of petty larceny. Those men were Caesar M. Contreras, Juan Martinez and Felipe Baritista.

It appeared from the evidence in the three cases that the three criminals were in the habit of entering shops and while the leader of the gang, Baritista, engaged the attention of the storekeeper by purchasing some small article, the two others improved their time by lifting valuable articles and getting away with them.

Judge Whomes tried the accused men on four separate charges—the first preferred by H. H. Faries, the second by D. G. Crofton, the third by E. E. Olmstead, and the fourth by Henrietta Chappel. In each case the evidence was strong and unmistakable and the judge found the prisoners guilty, sentencing them to four months' imprisonment in the county jail on each separate charge and decreeing that each sentence should follow the other the moment of its completion. Thus at the close of the first four months the men began time on the second sentence and so on.

The first sentence expired the other day and the three men got an attorney and instructed him to begin habeas corpus proceedings to obtain their liberty. Habeas corpus actions accordingly were begun before Judge Cabinnis Friday. The prisoners' attorney argued that the four sentences amounted practically to sixteen months' sentence and that was beyond power of a recorder's court to inflict.

The assistant district attorney maintained that the recorder was within his legal powers as these were four different cases and four distinct sentences, and that each sentence did not exceed the legal limit of six months permitted to lower courts.

In deciding the case Judge Cabinnis held that the recorder was right and that the sentences must be served out. He therefore refused the habeas corpus plea and remitted the three men to the county jail to serve out their sentences as originally inflicted by Judge Whomes.

GRAND CELEBRATION

The unique, artistic and appropriate posters advertising the opening of the new Pacific avenue playgrounds that are reposing in the windows in the business houses of this city are attracting considerable attention, both for their beauty and for what they represent. The posters are all adorned with appropriate pictures in color and call attention to July 24 as the day of all days. The posters are the work of several of the young people who are interested in the playgrounds.

The program for the opening of the playgrounds is as follows:

Children's play, May pole, swings, teeters, etc., in charge of Supervisor Laura Rowe, Mary Brown and others.

Tennis at 1:30 by champion players, supervised by Nat Brown.

Ball game at 2:30—league teams—Hollywood Stars and College Alumni.

Dinner served 5 to 7:30 by P. T. A. in court of school building.

Concert at 8 o'clock by Glendale municipal band.

Comfortable seats with backs in the grandstand.

supervisors, spoke of an experiment which that board is conducting in the neighborhood of the Little Landers settlement. They are building in the canyons there a number of inexpensive dams or breakwaters to hold back the storm water. This plan has been advocated by Mr. F. H. Olmstead of North Glendale, who is greatly interested in this work. It is the plan that has been adopted in Switzerland within comparatively recent years and is the only plan that has been at all successful after many years of experiment in that country, where conditions are very similar to those in California.

"The members of the board of supervisors who were on this trip were enthusiastic over the results of this work and were greatly pleased with both features of conservation detailed here. The result will probably be that the county of Los Angeles will appropriate a sufficient sum of money for conducting this work along these lines."

ELKS' PARADE PRIZES

GLENDALE DRILL TEAM FORTUNATE IN WINNING SECOND AT SAN DIEGO FRIDAY

Glendale was fortunate enough to win second place in Thursday's parade competition for having the greatest number of men in the line of march. San Diego won first prize, $100; Glendale, $75; Pasadena, $50. For the best appearing contingent, Denver was first, winning $125; San Bernardino, second, $75; Salt Lake City, third, $50. For the most unique uniform Santa Barbara was first, $100; San Diego, second, $75; El Paso, third, $50. Prizes for bands outside the state were awarded to Watertown, S. D., $400; Denver, $200; Pueblo, $150. Los Angeles was first in the float competition on Thursday, winning $200; Santa Barbara, second, $150; Denver, third, $100.

At San Diego the Glendale drill team made a very fine appearance and won second place, getting a fine silver cup. Denver was first. Wm. Jennings Bryan was an interested spectator of the drill and praised the Glendale boys highly.

Local Elks are discussing with some seriousness of intention the necessity for building a new clubhouse. The lodge owns three lots on Colorado boulevard, 150x200, and it is felt that it would be a good thing to build the new clubhouse there. The events of Monday of this week demonstrated beyond a doubt that the present rooms are far too small for so large a society. A new clubhouse, with swimming tank, gymnasium, bowling alleys, reading-room and other adjuncts is desired. Such a building it is felt would be a credit to the whole valley.

WILL BUILD CESSPOOL

On the complaint of Joe Banker, plumbing inspector of Glendale, W. P. Bullock of Glendale Heights was tried before Judge Whomes Thursday. The complaint charged him with having maintained a sumphole within twenty feet of the supply stream of the Verdugo Canon Water company. The case was continued for twenty days to give Mr. Bullock time to build a cesspool in conformity with the requirements of the city. Mr. Bullock states that he has all along been willing to comply with the city ordinance and had already made alterations which he thought might be satisfactory.

OFFERS HER TENNIS COURT

It will be some days before the Pacific avenue playground tennis court will be open for the use of the children. Meantime, there has been some little difficulty in giving everybody who wanted to play a chance for a game on the Union high school court. In order to do away with this friction, Mrs. Ella Richardson, 805 South Central avenue, has placed her own tennis court at her residence at the disposal of those who want to play. She is anxious that the young people who wish to make use of a tennis court should avail themselves of her offer.

MOTOR TO FAIR

F. R. Buchanan and family of 204 Orange street, accompanied by their friends, Prof. and Mrs. W. E. Elmer of Wisconsin, drove to San Diego on Wednesday, spent more than a day at the fair, and then drove over to Old Mexico on a sightseeing trip. Messrs. Buchanan and Elmer were highly pleased with what they saw enroute and also on the fair grounds. The trip, a distance of 142 miles, was made in six hours, which Mr. Buchanan considers very fair time.

STUDEBAKER BUSINESS GOOD

The local Studebaker agency reports that the coming season is opening in a most auspicious manner for Studebaker cars, and that while it has been impossible to secure a 1916 demonstrator to date, a number of sales have been made for delivery next month to people who have seen the new model at Los Angeles. This agency is also at present the only Glendale agency for the well-known Goodrich tires, which are fully described on page four of this issue.

LIBERTY BELL ARRIVES

Liberty Bell is in San Francisco and all that city and its vicinity is rushing to see it. This is Liberty Bell Day. The bell is guarded by a line of troops, which seems an unnecessary precaution. The enthusiasm of the people is unbounded and the celebration of the bell's arrival will be a memorable story for the present generation.

LIBRARIAN'S REPORT

MADE TO BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF THE GLENDALE PUBLIC LIBRARY

To the Honorable Board of Directors of the Glendale Public Library:

I have the honor of presenting the annual report of the Glendale public library. The report this year shows a steady gain in the figures given for the home use of books and of the routine of the clerical work.

The financial outlay also increases as the demands of the library grow. A number of books have been rebound on account of soiled and unsanitary condition.

The perplexed situation of what to do with new books added is one which we shall have to consider. We hope the home circulation will increase and relieve this condition.

Magazine Orders

Care has been taken in the orders of magazines so that the fullest use possible is made of every subscription, both for current reading and for permanent references. Seventy-two magazines, covering different lines of interest, constitute the present list of subscriptions. Most of the magazines are indexed in the Readers' Guide to Periodical Literature, thus giving a working system for their use. The magazine material is so constantly in demand that some of the most important publications are being preserved for binding.

Eleven newspapers are received regularly.

Books listed with us by the teachers of the public schools have been ordered and the library stands ready to assist in carrying out the plan of the schools in their suggested lists of books.

Story Hour

During the past summers a story hour has been conducted by the librarian. The stories this year will be given by the librarian, assisted by Miss Scott, and we anticipate an even greater interest in this phase of the work. The climax of the story hour is book selection, which is guided by the staff, who consider the culture gained from reading the proper books an important attribute to child life.

A war manual has been added and together with many books of the countries of Europe, has proven very interesting to our readers.

Dictionary Card Catalogue

For the dictionary card catalogue we have made a careful study of the books added and for volumes of varied interest several subject headings have been made.

A collection of beautifully illustrated editions suitable for children has been put on the shelves, some of them from the old favorites.

We cannot be too grateful for the generous treatment given by the newspapers of Glendale, and I wish to thank the board of library directors and the city council for their kind support, and to recognize the loyal help given me by the staff.

Respectfully submitted,

ALMA JEANNETTE DANFORD,

Librarian.

CONTESTANTS IN PRINT

SECOND PUBLISHED LIST—THE RACE IS EXCEEDINGLY CLOSE AT PRESENT

Second Extra Vote Offer

Here's the second big extra vote offer of the contest. Forty thousand extra votes will be issued on every $25 worth of new subscriptions to the Evening News or Tri-City Progress turned into the Glendale Evening News office between Saturday, July 17, and Saturday, July 31, at 8 o'clock p. m. All daily subscriptions to count on this offer must be for at least three months, and all subscriptions to the Tri-City Progress must be for one year or longer.

Today you have a chance to see the vote of your favorite contestant. The race in reality is closer than the score would seem to indicate, as some of the contestants with a lower vote have taken advantage of the privilege of holding a reserve fund of votes and of course have not necessarily published their full score. Never in the history of Glendale has a contest appealed to the people of San Fernando valley as has this great subscription campaign planned by the Evening News. This contest is a home contest, put on by a home paper, and conducted by local people on the News staff. No outside people or concern is conducting the contest and every contestant knows just what he and she is working for.

An $850 Maxwell touring car, fully equipped, is surely a prize that is worth working for, and a prize that someone right here in Glendale, Tropico, Burbank or vicinity will surely win, and that someone might as well be you. The Maxwell touring car was purchased of the Maxwell-King agency at the corner of Colorado and Brand boulevards, and will soon be on display at the showrooms of this garage or in front of the Evening News office.

Next in desirability and in point of value in the list of prizes comes the $400 Schiller piano, a pure-toned instrument, with a highly finished mahogany case, one of the most attractive medium-priced instruments to be found in the large showrooms of the Platt Music company of Los Angeles, from which firm it was purchased.

The trip to the exposition, with expenses prepaid, will also be a most desirable one this autumn when California weather will be at its best. This trip may be yours if you miss both the first and second prizes and win the third.

In addition to the three grand prizes are the district prizes, which include three $75 scholarships to the Isaacs-Woodbury Business college of Los Angeles, the $50 bank deposit at the First National bank of Glendale and other prizes to be announced later.

Following is the published list of the standing of the contestants:

Morse Freeman.....95,020

GUESTS AT CLUB MEETING

Mrs. W. H. West and Mrs. Frank Grosvenor spent a delightful afternoon as guests of Mrs. Luther Brown at the "at-home" of the Friday Morning club on Friday afternoon from 3 to 5. Mrs. Brown was the hostess for the afternoon. She was assisted by Mrs. Francisco. There was a large gathering of Los Angeles and visiting clubwomen. The program was arranged with taste and knowledge, among the numbers being a wonderful presentation of "The Dream Maker," in costume, by Ruth Robbins, Max Pollock and Earl Robinson. Mrs. Roy Masters gave some splendid piano selections. Dainty refreshments were served. Among the well-known Glendale women present were Mrs. John Robert White, Jr., Mrs. Button, Miss Button, Mrs. Daniel Campbell, Mrs. H. G. Bartlett, Mrs. Mattison B. Jones, Miss Winifred Jones, Mrs. P. S. McNutt, Mrs. Luther Brown, Mrs. Masters and her sister, Mrs. Cannon; Mrs. Wash Hunt, Mrs. Wm. Herman West and Mrs. Frank Grosvenor. Charmed with the gracious hospitality of Mrs. Brown, the guests were unanimous in the opinion that Glendale was fortunate in having her in its midst.

AID CLUB FINANCES

SOCIETY MATRON DEVISES MOST CLEVER PLAN—OTHER TROPICO NOTES

Mrs. William Harvey, Jr., though not a member of the Tropico Thursday Afternoon club, is nevertheless very much interested in the success of this local organization and especially in the clubhouse which the members are so desirous of erecting. For some time Mrs. Harvey has contemplated aiding the ladies and Friday at a charmingly appointed card party at her home on Tropico avenue unfolded her plans, which if worked out along the lines arranged by this clever and versatile society matron, will ultimately result in increasing the finances of the club.

Mrs. Harvey invited as her guests for Friday afternoon several popular auction bridge card players, among them Mrs. Charles A. Barker, president of the club; Mrs. Harry Bowman, Mrs. J. Herbert Smith, Mrs. W. M. Kimball, Mrs. A. H. Gaarder, Mrs. W. E. Burke and Miss Blanche Davenport. Mrs. Harvey announced that it was an endless chain party and that each lady present would be asked to invite three others to her own home within a fortnight to play cards or any games, to sew or do fancy needlework, just so the chain would be made complete and each one pay twenty-five cents, which amount will be given Miss Ida Meyers, club treasurer.

It is the desire of Mrs. Harvey, who Friday welded the first links of this endless chain by giving the initial party, to prohibit refreshments and prizes. The chain thus formed can be as effectively lengthened with these restrictions as otherwise. Conspicuously displayed by Mrs. Harvey was a large placard bearing the line, surrounded by quotation marks—"Please do not be the missing link." Each of Mrs. Harvey's guests was delighted with the novel idea and many are the parties that will be given shortly.

Hon. F. P. Stearns, mayor of Shawnee City, Okla., who has been the guest of his old-time friends, Mr. J. B. Hickman and daughters of Palm Villa, accompanied by Miss Cora Hickman, was the guest Friday of Councilman and Mrs. C. H. Henry at Universal City. Mayor Stearns was a most interested visitor and enjoyed the minutest detail of the busy life of Universal City. He left for San Francisco this morning, where he will meet the Shriners and there take in the sights of the city, as well as the exposition. Every large city on the Pacific coast and in British Columbia will be visited by Mr. Stearns before he returns to his home city.

Charming and replete in all of its appointments was the pink and white luncheon with which Miss Blanche Davenport entertained a coterie of former classmates at her home on Glendale avenue one delightful day this week. At the daintily appointed lunch table seated with the gracious hostess were Mrs. Cover Melrose of Reedley, Mrs. Myrtle Richardson of Monrovia, Mrs. Bessie Bloomington of Long Beach, Mrs. Phil Puck, Los Angeles, and Mrs. Harry Burton of Chicago.

Mrs. Adelaide H. Imbler, president of N. P. Banks Woman's Relief Corps of Tropico, and Mrs. Myra C. K. Shuey, past secretary of the Corps, represented the local organization at a meeting of the Ocean Park W. R. C. Friday, which was held in the beach city, at which many prominent department officers were present. Mrs. Shuey will remain in Ocean Park several days as the guest of Mrs. Lewis Hoffman, formerly of Tropico, and of Mrs. Hettie B. Williams. Mrs. Imbler was the dinner guest of Mrs. M. K. Rogers of Santa Monica following the Corps meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Emery Gates, who have been spending the past fortnight as the guests of Mrs. Gates' brother and sister, Dr. and Mrs. Samuel A. Pollock of West Park avenue, left for their home in San Francisco Saturday morning.

Mr. Jules Mollere of New Orleans, La., who but recently returned from a delightful visit in San Francisco and at the Panama-Pacific exposition, is at present the guest of his mother, Mrs. M. Mollere, and sister, Mrs. F. E. Peters of Glendale avenue.

Mrs. Merrit W. Ludden and Mrs. Hal H. Davenport are making extensive plans and arrangements for the lawn fete that will be given by the Ladies' Aid of the First Presbyterian church of Tropico on Tuesday evening, July 27, on the lawn surrounding the church and in the large and cool church parlors. Supper will be served for twenty-five cents per plate. Various booths will be arranged on the lawn at which will be for sale many useful articles.

FASHION RUN WILD

In all ages the rich and the rigid have tried to control women's fashions without avail. Woman has been forbidden to wear furs and silks, satins and pearls, gold and silver, bracelets and rings, ermine and sable, but the adorable creatures have paid no attention to the jealous laws and have gone on making themselves adorably ridiculous at times, but none the less beautiful. There may be a vast difference of opinion as to the esthetic value of men's clothes when worn by women, but modern women disregard all dictates of sober reason and do just as they please, as women have done in all ages.

In countries such as Alaska, where we see the aboriginal savage in his pristine simplicity, the women are distinguished from the men by the outward mark on their chins—three stripes—and also by the cut of their parkas. Those comfortable fur garments with hoods are finished in the case of the male with a straight hem all round the skirt. In the case of women, they are deeply incised on one side, sometimes on both. The point is that a distinction is necessarily made. There must always be a distinction between the sexes and fashions that approximate the sexes are certain never to become popular with more than a very small section of women, and for a very short time.

It is therefore needless for the prude and the prim to fuss over the fact that woman has at last invaded man's privilege to wear collars and cuffs. They have done so before, though the fashion did not last. The stern decrees of the fashion goddess also say that the dresses that button up the back are about to come in vogue again. Some newspapers are protesting feebly. What of it? What man of any gallantry would do other than rejoice when asked to hook up or button up the sweet lady who is his pride and his joy, as well as his torment?

One thing is certain. If the ladies want to wear men's linen they will wear it, and the ruder sex may look to supply the gaps in their wardrobes caused by the new fashion as best they may. Whatever woman wears, as the Latin poet, Persius, says, whether it be a head ornament like a saucer or a towering affair like a steeple, she is equally charming and equally certain to run up a bill, if she can, at the dry goods store.

WHO WILL PAY THE PIPER?

France, discussing war appropriations, has suddenly become alarmed at the prospect before the country. The war is costing the people of France $10,000 a minute, and while the people of the republic are loyally upholding their officials, they are beginning to ask who will have "to pay the piper?"

It is quite probable that the war will last the three years prophesied by Field Marshal Kitchener, and the French are already preparing their people's minds for a long-drawn-out struggle. Now the responsible financial supervisors of the nation are asking themselves how it will be possible to pay the debts contracted or the interest on the loans and at the same time keep up expensive fleets and armies.

Germany and Austria are feeling the burden of the war in even greater degree than their opponents. Austria's last war loan was a failure and it cannot be long before the lack of money and the failure of credit will force some of the countries to sue for peace. It has always been understood that the country with the longest purse would win out in the end. Which country that is, it would not be difficult to determine.

Out of all this darkness of anticipation, however, there comes a gleam of hope. The people of all countries are likely to demand curtailment of war and can assume control of the output of ammunition, without which war cannot be waged. The recent suggestion of an international commission to assume such control may be the way out.

Seed Notes

Our lesson is based on the activity of two people—a man, a woman. Each went to the limit and did what they could. And can either God or man ask more? The master while on earth did what he could. Mary with the alabaster box did what she could. The early disciples with Paul did what they could. Luther, Knox, Wesley, Spurgeon and Moody all did what they could—angels do no more. Doing what we can for God and right wins praise and the approval of God, conscience and men.

"Do not despise the day of small things" is a good adage. Behold the great spreading tree of Christianity overshadowing the world, having begun with one Christ, then the twelve disciples, then seventy, one hundred and twenty, five hundred, five thousand; and finally it has encircled the earth, wherever man is found. During all these years since the Christian era began it has worked like mustard seed, like leaven in meal, silently and quietly, but surely. Hence, its results are mighty, until today millions are ready to die for the name of Christ.

The best proof that Christianity is from heaven is the great fact that it lifts our best thoughts, aspirations, hopes, desires there. And the daily life of each Christian is the added proof of its divinity.

Christianity is not partial. What it does for one land, it does for another, spreading like wild fire, radiating in all directions.

Christianity has always gone in hand with civilization. The most civilized are the highest types of what Christianity can do. For without it earth would still be a "howling wilderness." Instead it is like the garden of the Lord. Countries, islands, nations, races, it has transformed from cannibalism, is the wonder of the world today.

Hope springs up anew because of its blessings. For what is possible in happiness, peace, joy, holiness, is in reach of all.

A new freedom it has brought to men. Slavery, ill treatment of woman and children, and the oppression of the poor, it has imbued with the air of liberty and stamped all with brotherhood.

A new learning in education, science, freedom and ability to think and do, manufacture, develop, invent, all that brings comfort and happiness to mankind is encouraged and fostered.

Christianity has added another, yet the best, that is the spirit of love. It is altruistic, unselfish in all it hopes for. Without it self, family, friends, receive first thought. With it love, kindness for all, regardless of race, lifts all it touches in same relation.

ENGLISH LUTHERAN CHURCH

This coming Sunday is set apart by the English Lutheran church of this city as the time for observing the Lord's Supper. It is one of the quarterly events in the annual work and interest of the congregation. This announcement is made for the benefit of all Lutherans and their friends in the community. They are especially invited to remember their Lord's dying request, "Do this in remembrance of me." Anyone who loves the Lord is striving to do his precious will, not denied the same privilege in his own church, is cordially at liberty to join us in this celebration of his love.

The pastor will briefly speak on the thought, "What the Lord's Supper Demands of Us." Just previous to the act of celebration, the congregation will enter into the public preparatory services.

Following is the musical program for the day:

Open voluntary, "Largo" (Whitings).
Solo, "The Lord is Mindful of His Own," Elizabeth Mottern.
Communion voluntary, "Pastorale" (Green).
Offertory (Beethoven).
Closing voluntary, "Marche" (Kimball).

SMART ANIMALS

Humanity has every reason to be grateful to animals. They have taught us some of our most useful arts, and have suggested the idea for many an invention.

It was the beaver that showed us the possibilities of building under water; the bee brought us the conception of regularity in building; the birds are the oldest masters of basket-work; they, too, have furnished every inventor who has attempted to design a flying-machine with his basic principles; the spiders have taught us the art of weaving and suspending a net.

Man learned how to construct ships from fish; how to dig holes from the badger, and the frog gave him his first swimming lessons.—Humane Advocate.

FINED FIFTY DOLLARS

It was found necessary this morning to withdraw the charge of short weighting against Lena Swartz, while some alteration was made in the charge against Sam Baker, indicted along with her. The result of this change was that Assistant District Attorney Powers recommended that the court refrain from inflicting the full penalty, $500, and inflict a fine of $50. At the same time the money which was shortweighted from Mr. West of the White Store was made up to him. Attorney Rosenkranz appeared for the defendant and City Sealer Miliken, who certified to the inaccuracy of the scales, was present and gave his evidence. Judge Whomes was inclined to inflict the full penalty, believing that this is a species of misdemeanor that ought to be dealt with adequately, but leniency prevailed.

Living in a country of billion-dollar trade-balances, we have reason to feel a bit "chesty."

EDITORS ARE COMING INTO THEIR OWN

Congressman Charles A. Randall of this district has secured the appointment of Editor L. P. Mitchell of the Owensmouth Gazette as postmaster in his growing city. Other newspaper men have also been called to public positions by the congressman, which indicates that the meek and lowly knight of the pencil is coming into his own.
Editors Gilstrap of the Alhambra Advocate, Cowan of the Glendale Evening News and Kennedy of the Whittier News have been appointed to sit as the examining board for candidates who desire to enter the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis, Congressman Randall having decided that he will make these appointments exclusively on a merit and competitive basis.

The world has more cause, right now, to abominate warfare than ever before.

PURE WATER SUPPLY

The total unfitness of water supplies in general, considered from both the domestic and industrial points of view, is so universally known that any elaboration on that point is not deemed necessary.

The ideal water for human consumption including general domestic use, is a water free from bacterial contamination, organic and mineral matter in suspension and having a minimum of mineral matter in solution together with a relatively large amount of uncombined oxygen (vitalizing principle) or so-called "life," says Robert I. Plomert in the Builder and Contractor.

Water having the above qualities is also the most desirable of waters for industrial uses, because the absence of minerals and vegetable or organic matter assures one of a perfectly soft water, and also an absence of the scale-forming and corrosive effect so generally experienced.

The knowledge of the public that almost without exception public water supplies are subjected to either a system of filtration or chemical treatment to destroy bacteria or both, is very general. This necessity arises from the organic, vegetable and mineral matter in suspension in all water together with the bacterial contamination due to seepage, sewage pollution, etc.

The necessity of rectifying or treating in some manner (with but few exceptions) all water supplies used as feed waters in steam boilers, is almost universally known.

The external chemical treatment, or the introduction of chemicals in the form of so-called "boiler compound" into the boiler, is due to the following facts:

Water containing as it does various mineral salts in solution, some of which have the property of forming a hard scale upon the interior of the boiler, thereby reduces the efficiency and life of the boiler.

Other mineral salts in the water have the property of corrosive action, attacking and dissolving the metal of the boiler.

HERE'S A CHALLENGE FROM THE KING AGENCY

Jno. A. Pirtle of the local King-Maxwell agency at the corner of Colorado and Brand boulevards, challenges any car of any make to equal the King Eight in demonstration.

Of these, 1,803,951 are Pleasure Cars—i.e., exclusive of Trucks, etc.

More than 90% of them, or about 1,623,555, use Pneumatic Tires.

Each car will wear out and replace, on average, about one Set of Four Tires per year.

Therefore, the interests of each Car-Owner as well as each Car-Manufacturer, each Car-Dealer, and Salesman, is vitally and personally affected by the price of Tires to Consumers.

Because,—Tires and Gasoline are the two big items of consumption in the operation of Motor Cars.

The Owner who used his Car 1,000 Miles less per year, than he would have done, because of "the high-price of Tires and Gasoline," received that much less return from his entire investment in the Car proper.

The potential, or prospective, Car-Owner who fails to buy a Car because of "the high cost of Tires and Gasoline,"—he who sells his Car and does not buy again because of "the high cost of Tires and Gasoline"—or he who, for the same reason, stores his Car and does not run it during a considerable part of the year, is a direct loss to 1st—Automobile Manufacturers, as a class.

2d—Automobile Dealers, as a class.

3d—Garage Owners, as a class.

4th—Lubrication & Gasoline Manufacturers, as a class.

But,—he is a greater loss to TIRE Manufacturers, and Dealers, as a class, than to any others.

Because,—

—Gasoline and Lubricants, for instance, can be sold to the Owners of Motor Boats, Stationary, and other Motors.

But,—Automobile Tires can only be sold, in the ultimate, to the man who OWNS a Car, and who wears out Tires through using it.

So this, then, is a leading reason why WE initiated, and propagated, that Goodrich "Fair-List" Movement which we publicly announced in the press on Jan. 31, 1915, and which caused practically every Pneumatic Tire Manufacturer in this Country to follow our lead and bring his prices down to a fairer level.

THIS is also the reason why some Tire Manufacturers, who could not, or would not, "meet" our BASIC prices for Pneumatic Tires (even though our "Fair-List" Propaganda obliged them to make heavy reductions off their former Lists) might erroneously suppose that "Goodrich" Tires have been cheapened in Quality, as well as in price.

Hence this explanation (to the Public, to Car-Manufacturers, Dealers, Car-Salesmen, Garages, and Tire Dealers generally) that we deem it "good business" to sell the best Goodrich Tires (of fabric construction) we have ever made, at the fairest price possible for such quality.

Hence, too, the following TEST offer to Consumers.

—We will cheerfully pay for any Goodrich Safety "Non-Skid" Tire, sold since our "Fair-List" price-reduction (announced on January 31, 1915), which when cut open shows any reduction in quality, in number of layers of Canvas, in thickness, or quality of Rubber, when compared with any other Goodrich Safety "Non-Skid" made by us, and sold at our higher prices current before the Goodrich "Fair-List" Movement.

And,—this is further to authorize any Tire-User to extend this Offer (at our expense) to any Tire Dealer, or Manufacturer.

We ask Car-Owners, and Tire Consumers, in their own interest, to see that no "implication" of lowered quality in Goodrich Tires goes unchallenged—just as we have protected their interests, for our own sake, through our "Fair-List" Propaganda.

BECAUSE of that GOODRICH "Fair-List" Propaganda, every Car-Owner who now buys any make of Tire sized 37 x 5, now saves on each set of 4 Tires, an average of about $46.27.

—Every Car-Owner who uses 34 x 4 Tires, of any make, now saves, through the Goodrich "Fair-List" Propaganda an average of about $26.15 per Set of 4 Tires.

Made as always—

—The same reliable Construction.

—The same dependable Service.

—Nothing whatever taken out of materials or Quality, no matter what reductions in List-Price are ever made.

—Every Car-Owner who uses 30 x 3½ Tires, now saves, through the Goodrich "Fair-List" Propaganda, an average of about $14.70 per Set of 4 Tires.

Other sizes in proportion.

The 1,623,555 State-licensed Car-Owners who use Pneumatic Tires now save about 20% of what they last year paid for ANY make and size, whether they be Goodrich or competing brands,—equal to more than $25,000,000 per year.

And, don't forget that this giant saving to Car-Owners was never mentioned to the Public by other Tire Manufacturing Concerns until the Goodrich "Fair-List" Propaganda made it imperative that they extend the Saving to Consumers on their Tires, or lose business to the Goodrich Co.

But, notwithstanding all this,—the fact which should loom largest to TIRE-USERS is the contrast of 10% to 40%, in prices, that still exists between the low price of the best Non-Skid Tires (of fabric construction) that money can buy, or the largest Rubber Factory in the World produce,—(to wit, GOODRICH Non-Skid Tires) and all other "responsible" Tires in the field.

Compare prices and see!

Then, if you are not already a Goodrich User, do yourself (and us), the justice to buy at least one GOODRICH "Non-Skid" Tire.

Test that out for Quality, Mileage and Resilience against any other Tire, at any price, which you are now using.

The result of such Test will cause you to wonder why you ever paid more for Maximum Quality, Mileage, and Resilience than the Basic price of Goodrich Non-Skid Tires?
